

What is Key Handler?

KeyHandler is software that tracks who has the keys.

Who would benefit from using Key Handler?

Anyone who has a number of bunches of keys that are routinely taken away and returned. The most typical example being a property letting agency that releases keys for short periods for maintenance or viewings.

What are the benefits to you?

- Saves time – Key Handler is quick and simple to use. It saves you significant amounts of time compared to the traditional methods of tracking who has the keys. You will know who has the keys in one click!
- Saves money – As well as saving money by saving time, Key Handler knows who was responsible for any lost keys. You will know who should pay for replacement keys or lock changes.
- Improves efficiency – The key reservation system ensures that the correct keys are available when required, avoiding last minute key chasing.
- Increases security – The stock check option quickly highlights any missing keys and the flexible management reporting options identifies who has handled any keys.

How much is it?

The standard edition of Key Handler is £399 including VAT (£332.50 ex VAT). This is the single user / single computer version.

The enterprise multi-user edition is £999 including VAT (£832.50 ex VAT). This edition allows unlimited concurrent use, on any number of computers, on a single network.

What you will need?

- Computer running Microsoft Windows XP (service pack 3), Windows Vista, Windows 7 or Windows 8.
- Barcode scanner recommended but not essential
- Printer or label printer
- Labels large enough for barcode (if used) and ID (e.g. Avery 8160 63 by 38mm)
- Key fobs